

Smeaton v. Secretary of State for Health

Emergency contraception prevents implantation of the embryo, and therefore its supply, administration and use does not constitute procuring of a miscarriage within the meaning of sections 58 or 59 of the Offences against the Person Act 1861 and the phrase “procure a miscarriage” cannot be construed to include the prevention of implantation)